DESCRIPTION

Built with reinforced fiberglass, the Mistral 36's hull stands out for its durability and strength, ideal characteristics for tackling offshore crossings. Its fixed keel and a draft of 1.8 meters make it an agile, stable and safe sailboat, capable of handling itself with ease in different sea and wind conditions.

The interior design of the North Wind Mistral 36 reflects the attention to detail typical of the period. The teak wood, present in all the furniture, provides a warm and welcoming atmosphere. It has a master cabin in the bow, an additional cabin in the stern, and a convertible lounge that increases the overnight capacity to six people.

The Mistral 36 is designed to offer a balance between speed and comfort. Its sloop-type rig makes it easy to maneuver, even with a reduced crew. This sailboat is capable of maintaining excellent performance both upwind and downwind, easily adapting to the needs of the most demanding sailors.

The North Wind Mistral 36 is much more than just a boat; it is a piece of nautical history that continues to be appreciated for its reliability and timeless design. Ideal for both coastal cruising and longer voyages, this vessel has earned a place in the hearts of those seeking an authentic experience at sea.
