DESCRIPTION

In a market dominated by speed and instant spectacle, the Beneteau Grand Trawler 62 proposes a radically different philosophy: rediscovering the pleasure of cruising with calm, autonomy, and sophistication. It's not a yacht designed to impress in minutes, but to captivate for mile after mile.

Its displacement hull, developed in collaboration with naval architecture experts, allows for extremely efficient and stable navigation. Unlike traditional planing hulls, the priority here is not reaching high speeds, but maintaining low fuel consumption and consistent performance, even on long voyages.

Stepping inside the Grand Trawler 62 is like entering a space where design and functionality coexist seamlessly. Natural light takes center stage thanks to large panoramic windows that visually connect the interior with the marine environment.

If there's one place where the Grand Trawler 62 truly comes alive, it's on its flybridge. Spacious, versatile, and perfectly equipped, it becomes the heart of life on board.
